Picnickers Leave City Early in Special Train, Trucks and Private Automobiles

Nantasket and Hampton Beaches Drawing the Largest Quotas

Everybody's happy! A warm sun, casting its cheerful rays over the city in the early morning, dispelled the fears of many that showers would be Lowell's weather quota today, while a breeze from the east tempered a hot wave, making weather conditions ideal for the biggest outing day of the year.

For today is the store clerks' holiday, and nearly 1000 employees of the large dry goods stores, markets and drug stores are enjoying the day at the favorite summer resorts, inland and at the seashore, which are plentiful throughout this state and that of its neighbor, New Hampshire.

As early as 8 o'clock this morning a carnival spirit was in the air, with the down town streets thronged with men and women in holiday attire. As each truck and automobile load pulled out the streets echoed to the shouts of the merry-makers.

A little unusual color was added to the scene in the square when the Will's picnickers were serenaded prior to their departure by a fife and drum corps, and the Fairbairn clerks made merry on the opposite corner. At the depot the Bon Marche, A. G. Pollard

Pres. and Mrs. Coolidge Consolated at Simple Rites the Family Had Wished

This Afternoon the Presidential Party Accompanied Body to Plymouth, Vt.

Burial in Family Lot in Hillside Cemetery, Beside Mother of President

Members of Cabinet and Other Officials Attend Simple Funeral Rites

NORTHAMPTON, July 10.—(By the Associated Press) Former playmates and neighbors in the town where he was reared to the approach of manhood, tendered their services of respect this morning to Calvin Coolidge, Jr.

President and Mrs. Coolidge were consoled by the townsfolk of Northampton at the simple rites the family had wished, in the Edwards Congregational church where Calvin, as a boy, was taken into membership.

This afternoon, over the road he had traveled on summer vacations to his grandfather's farm, the presidential party was carrying the body of the 16-year-old boy to his burial place in Plymouth, Vt. In the family lot in the hillside cemetery, where lies the mother of the president.

The service yesterday in Washington was the government's tribute, that today in Northampton, was the family service in which old friends and neighbors participated.

Rev. Kenneth E. Welles, pastor of the Edwards Congregational church, said that in the memory and life of Calvin Coolidge was found what is

AYER ESTATE APPRAISED AT EIGHT MILLIONS

Announcement was made in New York city late yesterday afternoon, that the estate of Frederick Fanning Ayer, lawyer and financier, of Boston and New York, who died last month and now rests in the Ayer family lot in old Lowell cemetery in this city of his birth, has just been appraised at $8,000,000.

This appraisal was revealed when letters of administration of the Ayer estate were filed in the New York city probate court by Mrs. Ledy J.

Pierson, sister of the deceased financier.

Frederick Fanning Ayer managed the extensive estate of his father, James Cook Ayer, from the time of the latter's death in 1878. He was a member of many directorates in Lowell and the city's greatest individual benefactor.

NURMI, FINNISH WHIRLWIND, SETS NEW OLYMPIC RECORDS

Wins 1500-Metre Race in Three Minutes, 53 3-5 Seconds —Ray Watson, American Star, Cracked, After Running at Nurmi's Heels—Also Wins 5000 Event

OLYMPIC STADIUM, COLOMBES, France, July 10. (By the Associated Press.)—Paavo Nurmi, the Finnish whirlwind, started off one of the greatest bids for Olympic fame any athlete ever attempted in a single afternoon today by running away with the 1500-metre race in the new Olympic record time of three minutes 53 3-5 seconds. The other task Nurmi set himself was the winning of the final of the 5000 metres, later.

Paavo Nurmi of Finland scored his second triumph of the day by winning the final of the 5000-metre event. Willie Ritola, Finland, was second.

Taking the lead in the 1500 metres before the first 200 metres were covered, Nurmi set his own pace all the way, breaking the heart of the American star, Ray Watson, the A.A.U. half-mile champion, who cracked after running on the heels of the Finnish ace for 1200 metres.

The Swiss star, Schärer, the dark horse of the race came from behind and beat out Stallard, the Britisher, for second place by a few feet, 20 metres behind Nurmi. Stallard, exhausted by his effort, collapsed after crossing the line and it was several minutes before he was revived.

Lowe, the British star, and two Americans, Ray B. Baker, Illinois A.C., and Lloyd Hahn, Boston A.A., also closed with a rush that carried them past the fast-firing Watson, and they finished in that order for the remaining places.

Nurmi, timing his own race with his famous stop watch, simply won as he pleased, proving himself without a peer at this distance. His time was only 3-5 of a second short of his own world's record, which he could have broken if he had been pressed in the last few hundred metres.

The point score of the leaders after the 1500 metre run was: United States 135; Finland 83.

Fred D. Tootell, Boston A.A., won the hammer throw final.

The humble names of Nurmi and Ritola, the Finnish long distance stars, on the program of the 1500 and 5000 metre races today brought the largest week day attendance so far to the Olympic games in the Colombes stadium, although this was the hottest and sultriest day of the Olympic meet.

Summary:

400 metre run; second heat: two to qualify for second trial: Ray Robertson, Boston A.A., first; Jensen, Denmark; second, Time, 50 1-5 seconds.

Fourth heat: Eric C. Wilson, University of Iowa, first; Norman, Australia, second, Time, 49 3-5 seconds.

All of the 121 members of the Lowell infantry contingent, streaming through the first stages of their annual summer tour of 15 days on the Camp Devens parade ground, the 1st scotch maneuver fields and sun-baked rifle ranges, are tickled to learn that they are to receive a real, honest-to-goodness "official" delegation of representative Lowell citizens of both sexes, on "Governor's Day," next week, Thursday, July 17.

Crowell, of Company D. The announcement read that numerous Lowell business men, some of them relatives of the boys now in camp, together with several automobile parties comprised of citizens-at-large interested in the good work of the infantrymen thus far reported at the 1924 encampment, are preparing to journey Thursday morning next to Ayer and the Devens campground and spend the day there in the Lowell barracks location, Eleventh street corner of Fourth avenue.

The military affairs committee of the Lowell chamber is handling the trip to Devens. Capt. Royal P. White,

PASTOR WELLES PAYS TRIBUTE

Eulogy and Prayer Made by Rev. Kenneth B. Welles at Funeral Services

Says "What Was Best in American Boy, Calvin Coolidge, Jr., Was"

NORTHAMPTON, July 10.—Sorrowing as a citizen Northampton who had known Calvin Coolidge, Jr., as child and boy, the Rev. Kenneth B. Welles, pastor of the Edwards Congregational church, officiating at the funeral services of the youngest son of president and Mrs. Coolidge here today, said that "what was most wholesome and best in the American boy, he was."

"Friends: the sadness of this homecoming binds us all very closely together and makes us more aware than ever of the love and loyalty which we of Northampton bear toward these honored friends who have come back to us," the Rev. Mr. Welles said. "Our hearts are all very tender, and when hearts are tender, when the way is opened by sympathy and sorrow, then God speaks. He is not far away this morning, coming in answer to the needs and to the summons of this beautiful young life which has gone on. All those who have lost some one dear know that God's footfalls will be heard quietly walking with them, bringing a peace to their minds, and a calm to their souls."

"Sorrow is not something to be feared, within it, it has a mainstay all its own. It pierces the callousness that grows round our spirits, and like little children we can feel again the mystery of life, and hear the voice of God. And then sorrow rededicates our lives and lifts them again on a higher plane where we strive once more for perfect things."

"There is something quite triumphant about this life which has been taken away. It was young, but then so was the Great Master Jesus. It was moved still by the young enthusiasm, and with his beautiful vision, and his concentration to duty and honor. It was a straight, honorable young life, sweetly natural, and still an inhabitant of two worlds, the material and the spiritual. A high self-respect kept him clean-minded; and a home of faith led him to an allegiance to the church and to God."

"He was a boy on whom one could depend, willing to work hard and play the game. There was an alluring quality about him which assured him many friends, and drew others to him with bonds of love. What was most wholesome and best in the American boy, he was. With his life speaks as a type of what boys are trying to be. Could such a personality fail to carry with it the victorious spirit, and could we who knew him fail to respond to it with our triumphant note?"

"One cannot know such a life and not know something of the divine in men. One could not watch the growth of such a spirit at home, in the school, in the church without being led into the presence of God. And if Calvin Coolidge, Jr., has helped us to move out of the darkness of the material Father what then? There must be the meaning of this life closed so early appear; then must there come consolations from that Father; then must the heavy yoke of trouble be lifted and the old work taken up heroically again. This life leads us to God; and our God can satisfy all our needs. May He bless you and keep you and be gracious unto you. May He give you abundantly out of His riches our grief into hope and your sorrow into a bulwark of strength for the life of our land."

"We thank Thee, O God, for the following prayer: 'Our Father and our God, we turn now to Thee, knowing that Thou alone hast the words of eternal life, and that from Thee can come the strength for our needs. Although we cannot understand the mystery of Thy will, nor the wisdom of Thy ways, help us still to believe in Thy promise that if we bring evil know how to give good gifts to our children, how much more will our Heavenly Father give good things to them that ask Him.'"

"We thank Thee that when Thou didst not spare Thy only son, Thou didst make Thyself one with all parents everywhere who love their child. Thou hast gone through our sorrows before us and Thou dost understand the mystery of Thy will, nor the wisdom of Thy ways, help us still to believe in Thy promise that if we bring evil know how to give good gifts to our children, how much more will our Heavenly Father give good things to them that ask Him."

And that the emotions of our nation and that the sweep of sympathy and tenderness that has encompassed our land, may be so directed through this beautiful young life, that his life work shall have been accomplished by the people closer to Thee. For his manliness, his quick response to all that was pure and good, his eager choice of the better things, we praise Thee. And we pray that he may lead us nearer to the values of life which alone count, and confirm many people in their stand for righteousness and for God. Out of his sacrifice may there come high purpose and the rededication of those who were dear to him."

"Oh, Thou who art the Great Comforter, the voice of the people is lifted to Thee, asking that Thou wilt bring comfort to these parents and this brother, that Thou wilt preserve their strength, and give them courage under the shadow of these days. May the sympathy and affection of the nation bring some peace to their minds, and teach them with Thy healing and love."

"Take away now our fear of death, and show that we bow here before no ending, but that we are in the presence of a new and lovely beginning. Persuade us that there is no death, that Thou dost call Thy children to wider life and higher work. We rest assured in the resurrection of Thy son, and believe that there has been a great victory and a new entry into that better country where he shall be with Thee and be with Thee forever. So confirm our faith, and our thanks will be to Thee, O Lord, who giveth us the victory through our Lord Jesus Christ. Amen."

from the lesson of his life a message of hope.
After the organ prelude, Dr. Jason Noble Pierce, of the First Congregational church in Washington, D. C., played Beethoven's 21 and 23. The quartet that sang at the service in Washington yesterday, sang again today. The scripture reading was given by Rev. Dr. Pierce, who read from John 11, Corinthians 15 and Revelation 21.

The president's family were met on their arrival from the home by the funeral procession from the train at the church door. The building already was filled with the homefolk.

Mrs. Coolidge, slightly more drawn than on yesterday, but walking erect and perfectly composed, went to the church with the president. Behind them were John and his grandfather, and immediately following them, Mrs. Goodhue, Mrs. Hillis and Mr. and Mrs. Frank W. Stearns. Then followed the official family, headed by cabinet members and their wives.

The president and Mrs. Coolidge, sat in the front row of the center seat in the front of the coffin. To the president's left was his father and beside him was John. Others of the family sat in the row behind them, and back of them was the official party.

Children, many of them Calvin's playmates, were massed on the high platform, and across the corner from the church at Main and South streets. Likewise the entire route from the station to the church on Main street, was lined on both sides by Northampton folks and the hillsides on the other side of the church was packed with humanity.

Train Arrived at 8 A. M.
NORTHAMPTON, July 10.—The funeral train bearing the body of Calvin Coolidge, Jr., younger son of President Coolidge, reached here at 8 o'clock, summer time, this morning for the services in the Edwards Congregational church.

A crash had fallen over this city, and the shadow of the shadow of Mount Tom, as Northampton halted its business and traffic for its last tribute to the president's son.

President and Mrs. Coolidge with their son, John, left the train shortly after arrival and went to the Coolidge home where they were met by Col. Calvin Coolidge, father of the president and Mrs. Andrew Goodhue, mother of Mrs. Coolidge.

Col. Coolidge had come down from his home at Plymouth and both he and Mrs. Goodhue will accompany the presidential party to Plymouth, later in the day, where Calvin will be buried. It also was planned by the president and Mrs. Coolidge, that the funeral procession should be held at the Coolidge home, the last on the special train coach, the last on the special train coach, the last on the special train coach.

The train was met at Northampton by town officials, but a squad of state police kept the station grounds clear of the friends and former neighbors of the dead boy. The tolling of church bells made known the arrival of the special train.

All of the president's immediate family were reported to have rested comfortably on the all night trip and they were up early this morning. The train pulled into this town promptly at 7 o'clock, eastern standard time, two hours before the time of the church services, as arranged by the schedule, and five minutes later Mr. and Mrs. Coolidge dressed in deep mourning, and John, left their coach to go to the old home. Only secret service operatives accompanied them.

In the early hours of the trip last night and again this morning, silent groups gathered at the railroad tracks on the route of the special and stood uncovered as the funeral train passed. As the special sped up the Connecticut river valley this morning and then entered the state of Massachusetts the crowds along the track grew larger. Factories along the line had stopped work for the time and the employees stood at attention.

Northampton was unusually quiet. The president had urged that the services here be observed with simplicity and the home folk sought to comply. Acting Mayor Pierce last night issued a proclamation recommending that all business stop between the hours of 9:30 and 11:30 o'clock, when the funeral procession and the services will be under way. Main street was devoid of traffic.

In the house where the president and Mrs. Coolidge made their only home here and sought the consolation of their parents, Calvin Coolidge was born. The home is one-half of a double house building, typical of the simplicity of the close family but attractively homelike.

State officials joined those of the city in doing all possible to make the way as easy as possible for the funeral party. Governor Prentiss yesterday took charge of arrangements at Plymouth, and planned to join the family later in the day. Former Gov. W. W. Stickney, accompanied Colonel Coolidge from Plymouth here.

It was the first return home of the president since his inauguration a year ago. A festive occasion had been planned for that arrival for many days. Townsfolk had for many days talked over the details of the celebration they planned and his arrival this morning on a train bearing the body of young Calvin, a favorite youth of the city, seemed to cast a double gloom over the little New England village.

Members of the chamber of commerce furnished and drove automobiles in the funeral procession. Shortly after the start of this and during the services, the clear notes of the chimes in Smith college were heard throughout the town. "Onward, Christian Soldiers" and "The Son of God Goes Forth to War" were among the hymns sweetly played on the chimes.

Troops From Devers on Guard

William M. Butler, chairman of the republican national committee and close friend of the president, met the party here.

President Leroy Burton of Michigan university, native of this state and who nominated Mr. Coolidge at the recent republican convention was among those who attended the services.

Members of the president's official family who accompanied him on the trip from Washington, remained on the train while the president's family sought the comfort of their relatives at the old home.

They later took their place in the funeral procession to the church. The presidential train was expected to arrive at Ludlow, 11 miles away and the nearest railroad point to Plymouth, at 2:30 o'clock daylight time. A horse from Woodstock, awaited the train's coming at Ludlow, and townspeople of that place have provided automobiles to convey the party over the road to the cemetery here. Troop B of the Third Cavalry, Camp Devers, reached Ludlow yesterday. With Company B, Vermont National Guard, under the personal command of Adjutant General Herbert T. Johnson of Montpelier, the cavalrymen will act as escort for the funeral procession and will patrol the mountain road between Ludlow and Plymouth.

All Activities Suspend

While the simple service of prayer is in progress at the graveside all activities will be suspended in Ludlow and other neighboring towns. Mills and places of business will be closed. While those who planned the arrangements kept in mind the dignity that befits a president and his entourage the wish of the home folk who knew the Coolidges, father and son, as friends and neighbors to pay their tribute of respect at the graveside was not overlooked.

The simple observance at the cemetery would not last more than half an hour, it was said. According to the expressed wish of the president and Mrs. Coolidge, these were to consist of a prayer service, conducted by Dr. Jason Noble Pierce, pastor of the First Congregational church of Washington, immediately after the burial, and a service of prayer for the arrival of the presidential party from Washington, accompanying the body of the younger Coolidge.

Farming folk of the countryside coming by team and by motor, were among the crowds that gathered to pay tribute to the president's dead. They began to arrive early in the forenoon and while teams were packed with automobiles in the space provided, horses were led to fields further distant and allowed to graze.

A detachment of 30 members of the Massachusetts constabulary came here to assist in the traffic arrangements and were sworn in as deputy sheriffs in Vermont. A detachment of national guardsmen from Rutland, was ordered out to augment those of the Ludlow company and state automobile inspectors aided in working out the highway plans.

At the Coolidge home, where the presidential party will stop for a visit and a luncheon after the services, Miss Aurora Pierce, the housekeeper, was busy during the day with women neighbors in making ready the cold meats, the home made bread and other simple items of the meal.

Line Route to Pay Respects

ABOARD THE PRESIDENT COOLIDGE FUNERAL TRAIN, NEW YORK, July 10. (By the Associated Press).—Anxious to offer their respects, American citizens in the cities between Washington and New York lined the route of the presidential train carrying Mr. Coolidge and his family with the body of Calvin, Jr., with uncovered heads as the special sped through the late hours last night and early today along the Atlantic coast.

Leaving the capital last night at 9 o'clock after funeral services at the White House late in the afternoon, the special train this morning approached Northampton, Mass. There, the boyhood home of 16-year-old Calvin, funeral services will be held this morning—in the church he joined while a boy in the grade school. Later this afternoon the body will be taken on the same train to Ludlow, Vt., and from there by carriage to Plymouth, Vt., where the remains will be buried beside the mother of President Coolidge.

The president and Mrs. Coolidge and John, older brother, and the grief-stricken Calvin, Jr., will be quietly and with piling fortitude yesterday at the White House services and again last night as they went through the streets of Washington, lined with silent crowds, to the train. For a while after the train left Washington, they sat up, and shortly after passing through Baltimore, retired. In the same car with them were Maj. Frank W. Stearns of Boston, a friend of the family for many years, and Maj. James F. Coupal, the president's physician.

At the rear of the car occupied by the family, the last on the train, was the bier on which rested the casket with the body of the boy. It was guarded throughout the trip by three marines of the squad of six from the presidential yacht, the Mayflower, pals of the youth on his happy trips aboard the vessel. The gray casket was covered completely by a spray of pink roses and the lighted compartment was visible to those without.

Accompanying the president were members of his official family, representatives of the nation at the final services, and intimate friends of the boy and family, including many White House attaches and the physicians who attended the youth.

Plymouth Prepares for Funeral

PLYMOUTH, Vt., July 10.—The hamlet in the Vermont hills where Calvin Coolidge was born, sadly prepared today to greet a mourning president. In the little hillside cemetery here, a monument to the Coolidge family have found their final resting place since the family first came to Plymouth in 1750, a grave had been made ready to receive the president's younger son and namesake, and the neighbors were gathering to join with representatives of state and nation in paying the last honors to Calvin Coolidge, Jr.

While the funeral train was in preparation for the first visit of the president to his native village since he interrupted a summer vacation at his father's home here last August to become a nation's chief executive, Gov. Redfield Proctor of Vermont came yesterday to state and local officials and neighbors in making arrangements for the arrival of the presidential party from Washington, accompanying the body of the younger Coolidge.

Farming folk of the countryside coming by team and by motor, were among the crowds that gathered to pay tribute to the president's dead. They began to arrive early in the forenoon and while teams were packed with automobiles in the space provided, horses were led to fields further distant and allowed to graze.

A detachment of 30 members of the Massachusetts constabulary came here to assist in the traffic arrangements and were sworn in as deputy sheriffs in Vermont. A detachment of national guardsmen from Rutland, was ordered out to augment those of the Ludlow company and state automobile inspectors aided in working out the highway plans.

Fine Weather Adds a Charm
Continued

Co. Gagnon Co. and Cherry & Webb employees, while on the special train to take them to Boston and Nantasket, made the station resound with the blowing of horns, singing and cheering.

Practically every large store and mercantile establishment in the city selected today for its outing, thus reducing retail trade to the barest minimum. Also, one or two stores, where no outings were planned, closed for the day.

The trip to be taken by the clerks of the Adams Hardware Co. to Provincetown is the longest to be undertaken, although Nantasket beach will receive the largest quota of picnickers.

Special Train Carries 600
At 8:30 o'clock a special train drew out of the local railroad station bearing over 600 employees of the Bon Marche Dry Goods company, A. G. Pollard Co., the Gagnon Company, and the Cherry & Webb store, bound for Boston on the first leg of their trip to Nantasket.

Upon arrival in Boston the party journeyed to Rowe's wharf by elevated and there boarded a boat for the beach. The sail down the harbor was one of the most interesting parts of the trip and the picnickers enjoyed every minute of it.

When the steamer arrived at the dock at Nantasket, the party broke up into store groups, each with a set program of its own, to rejoin again when it is time for the return trip to start.

The Bon Marche contingent had no set program of activities except for a shore dinner at the Palm Gardens. From the time of arrival at the beach until 12 o'clock the members simply enjoyed themselves as best they knew how—and made a good job of it.

At noon, all gathered in the beautiful Palm Garden where a dinner such as can only be had at a beach resort was served. Present as guests of the clerks were Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Gilmore, Miss Elizabeth Mitchell and Mr. and Mrs. Carl Wengman of the company. Following dinner, the clerks will enjoy an impromptu program of sports, dancing and bathing, and will return late in the evening.

The committee in charge of the outing consists of the following members of the Employees' Mutual Benefit association: John Foley, president; Miss Catherine Sparks, Miss Jean Giroux, Albert Rhodes and Miss Frances Burns. The officers of the benefit association are John Foley, president; Philip Duval, vice-president; Margaret Curley, treasurer; Catherine Sparks, collector; Albert Rhodes, Margaret Riley and Jean Giroux.

A. G. Pollard Company
About 200 employees of the Pollard company were on the special train, also bound for Nantasket with the Bon Marche and other stores. This group had a more ambitious schedule, for, after enjoying the beach amusements and having dinner at noon in the Palm Garden, many returned to Boston to view the Elks' parade. Others remained at Nantasket beach and enjoyed bathing and dancing.

The committee in charge of the outing is headed by President William Tucker of the employees association, assisted by Paul Chevalier, vice-president; Winnie Flemmings, secretary; Mildred O'Connor, Laura Sullivan, Joseph Finnerty and John Orrell.

Gagnon Employees at Nantasket
Every member and many guests of The Gagnon Co. E. M. R. A. left Lowell on their special train this morning at 8:30 for their fifth annual outing at Nantasket Beach.

The girls were all prettily attired and the men were smiling broadly as they chatted gaily over their plans for the pleasant day before them. At 10:15 they left Rowe's wharf on the Mayflower headed beachward.

After the bathing at 1 o'clock a sumptuous dinner at the Nantasket House was served which included all the delicacies of the deep. A program of interesting sports was carried out and the various amusements of the beach were patronized unstintingly.

The return boat trip is planned

Cherry & Webb Outing

About 80 Cherry & Webb clerks met at the railroad station and went to Boston and Nantasket with the Bon Marche, Gagnon and Pollard clerks.

Upon arrival at Nantasket, bathing was the rule until noon, when dinner was enjoyed in the Palm Garden. After a short rest period, a program of sports and games was run off and dancing enjoyed until time to return home.

The outing committee is as follows: Miss Susan Sterns, Mrs. Alice Allen, Miss Mary Jarets and Miss Louise Lehouardain.

Lowell Druggists' Assoc. Outing

The drug stores of the city closed down at 9 o'clock this morning for the annual outing of the Druggists' association, and at 9:30 o'clock about 200 pharmacists and their assistants started for Hampton beach in private machines.

Munsey's cafe at Hampton was their destination and upon arriving there at 11:30 o'clock the first and most important objective was the dining room, where a delicious shore dinner was served.

After dinner a long list of sports was run off and prizes donated by the manufacturers and jobbers of druggists' supplies were awarded the winners. Swimming and dancing, with a light luncheon in the early evening hours complete their program.

The committee follows: William R. Noonan, general chairman; Fred Jones and Fred Burke, ticket committee; Harry Campbell, Philip Laporte, Paul

ISLE ROYALE TO BE NATIONAL RESERVE

WASHINGTON, July 10. (By the Associated Press).—A national playground 24 miles long and nine miles wide and embracing 122,000 acres of virgin wilderness, prolific flora, rare orebids and wild animal life is planned by the government on Isle Royale, in Lake Superior. The island, which is accessible to the entire middle west, recently was visited by Stephen T. Mather, director of the national park service, who on his return to Washington reported the site an ideal one for recreation purposes.

The natural displays on Isle Royale, Director Mather reported, make its permanent preservation of utmost importance, nearly a score of attractive harbors, a like number of lakes and many swift-flowing trout streams providing a fisherman's paradise.

Steps have already been taken to secure the island for the government, and Mr. Mather says the genuine public spirit and the sincere interest in its preservation shown by the prin-

NATIONAL CLAY COURT TENNIS TOURNEY

ST. LOUIS, July 10 (By the Associated Press).—Opening play in the national clay court tennis championship today found J. E. Schlessinger of Australia opposing A. H. Chapin, Jr., of Springfield, Mass., in the fourth round of the men's singles.

Due to rain during a portion of yesterday's play, this contest was delayed placing the two stars on today's schedule. Unusual interest was manifested in this match, due to the keen rivalry existing between the two stars following the recent defeat of Schlessinger by Chapin in the western championship matches at Indianapolis.

A galaxy of tennis stars surviving yesterday's play, met in the fifth round singles play. Among these were included the champion, William T. Tilden of Philadelphia, who opposed Robert Kinsey, San Francisco star, and Walter Washbrook of Pasadena, who met Adrian P. C. Norton, St. Louis.

A number of matches in the doubles and junior and boys' events were also played.

SOUR STOMACH CAUSES DISTRESS

Smothering Sensations and Nervousness Also Troubled This Pawtucket Resident

Try the tonic treatment for stubborn stomach trouble accompanied by symptoms showing that the blood is thin, the nerves weak and the general vitality low. Build up the blood, strengthen the nerves and see how quickly the digestive symptoms vanish. That is what happened in the following well authenticated case:

"After eating a hearty meal I would suffer with pains around my heart," says Mrs. James Battersby, of No. 374 Brook street, Pawtucket, R. I. "Beside the severe pain there was a sensation as though I would smother. I had sour and bitter risings in my throat. I was short of breath after the least bit of exertion, like walking up stairs. I could not get to sleep at night, but would hear the clock strike three or four hours after going to bed. When I arose in the morning I was nervous and exhausted instead of being refreshed. I was in this condition for four or five years and was miserable."

"I had taken Dr. Williams' Pink Pills some years ago in England and when nothing seemed to help my stomach trouble and nervousness I decided to try the pills. After the second box I was greatly relieved. The pains were not so severe. I continued the treatment and kept on improving. The pills corrected the sour stomach and strengthened my nerves so that I slept better. My heart does not jump as it used to and I am not so short of breath. I am better in every way than when I began taking Dr. Williams' Pink Pills."

Your own druggist sells Dr. Williams' Pink Pills or they will be sent by mail, postpaid, on receipt of price, sixty cents per box, by the Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y. If you are interested write today for the free booklet, "What to Eat and How to Eat."—Adv.

FOREIGN STUDENTS ARE STUNNED BY TAX

BERLIN, July 10. (By Associated Press).—Several thousand foreign students in Germany, among them many Americans, were stunned recently when the government let it be known that students were not exempt from paying the ten per cent. income tax which is imposed upon Germany and foreigners alike. The students contend that it was always understood among them that as their incomes were derived from private sources, and not from any business carried on within Germany, the government had no intention of taxing them in any form whatsoever.

The question came to a head recently when an American who had been studying in Dresden for two years, applied for a visa on his passport which would permit him to leave Germany. The visa was refused on the ground that the student could show no receipt indicating that he had paid a tax on the income derived from his folks at home. An appeal was made to the United States consular officials, but they were unable to aid him in his predicament.

Other Americans in Berlin, Heidelberg and other university towns, since have also taken the matter up with the United States consular officials, contending that as they were under the impression that they would not have to pay the income taxes here they had spent the money from home as fast as it came and as they have no reserve funds on hand to pay the German government the amounts they demand, they are at a loss now what step to take next. It is estimated that there are approximately 400 American students here who have been attending the various universities.

CAN'T BEAT "TIZ" WHEN FEET HURT

Just take your shoes off and then put those weary, shoe-crinkled, aching, burning, corn-battered, bunion-tortured feet of yours in a "Tiz" bath. Your toes will wriggle with joy; they'll look up at you and almost talk and then they'll take another dive in that "Tiz" bath.

When your feet feel like lumps of lead—all tired out—just try "Tiz." It's grand—it's glorious. Your feet will dance with joy; also you will find all pain gone from corns, callouses and bunions.

There's nothing like "Tiz." It's the only remedy that draws out all the poisonous exudations which puff up your feet and cause foot torture.

A few cents buy a box of "Tiz" at any drug or department store—don't wait. Ah! how glad your feet get; how comfortable your shoes feel.—Adv.

paign issues at this time, explaining that such a discussion in advance of his formal notification of his nomination would be premature. The time and place of this notification are still to be determined.

For the present, at least, Mr. Davis will make his headquarters at the home of Frank L. Polk, under-secretary of state in the Wilson administration, but determination has not yet been reached as to whether he will establish permanent headquarters in New York or West Virginia.

Replying to inquiries, Mr. Davis said he would sever his connection with the law business. He is a member of the same firm that Grover Cleveland was when he was nominated for the third time.

It was not until today that the presidential nominee met Gov. Charles Bryan of Nebraska, his running mate. They were introduced as Mr. Davis entered the room where the democratic national committee met.

Mr. Davis has made no plans for the immediate future, other than to obtain a needed rest. He said that like everyone else who had anything to do with the convention he was well worn out.

30,000 ELKS IN PARADE

Procession in Boston This Afternoon to Be Longest in Order's History

Flag 90 by 40 Made of Cotton Manufactured in Fall River a Feature—70 Bands

BOSTON, July 10.—Undismayed by a forecast of showers, upwards of 30,000 members of the Benevolent & Protective Order of Elks made ready today for the parade of their 60th annual convention. Nearly 3000 other Elks were expected by special trains from New York, New Haven, Conn., Fall River and Providence, R. I., and it was predicted that the parade late today would be the longest in the order's history.

The procession will be reviewed at the state house by Gov. Channing H.
Cox, and at other points by Mayor
Carter, and by Grand Exalted Ruler John G. Price of Columbus, Ohio. An American flag measuring 90 by 40 feet and made of cotton manufactured in Fall River, will be carried by lodge members of that city. Seventy bands were assigned places in line. About 1000 policemen have been detailed to handle the crowds, and many business houses have declared a half holiday.

"THE GREEN LANTERN" CHOSEN AS NAME

"The Green Lantern" has been chosen as the name for the new property of the city club. After hundreds of names had been submitted, the above was chosen at a meeting of the club last evening. A week ago the club came into possession of the Pawtucket boathouse, which will be used by them as a recreational centre and an annex to the present club in the square, which was inadequate for the growing needs of the organization. The downtown club room will be closed until September when the fall and winter activities will be planned for both places.

The grand opening of "The Green Lantern" will take place Friday evening with a dancing party. During the summer the club will conduct dances there Monday and Friday evenings. On other nights the hall may be rented by reliable people for whist parties, dancing, meetings, dinners or similar events. Arrangements for this may be made through the secretary, Alice E.
Sullivan.

Workmen have been engaged in the building, making many needed changes. The first floor is being remodelled and will contain a recreation hall, bowling alleys, a new check room and a delightful living room for meetings, lectures, Sunday teas and informal events. On the second floor will be the dance hall, the spacious verandah overlooking the river, and a refreshment room.

FOUND GUILTY ON THREE COUNTS.

Michael A. Tanous was arraigned in district court this morning on charges of operating a motor vehicle without a license, without a valid driver's license, and endangering lives. He was found guilty on all three counts and fined a total of $30.

Officer Clyde Aldrich, who made the arrest, testified that on June 20 he saw a machine driven by the defendant narrowly miss striking two persons near the railroad station. He stopped the machine and asked for the driver's license and registration. As the driver had neither, he escorted him to the station where the above charges were filed against him. He also testified that a false number plate was on the front of the defendant's machine.

Tanous, testifying in his own defense, said he was a mechanic and took the machine, which he owned out to test it on the morning in question. He said he had had a license but it expired some time ago.

A $20 fine was imposed for driving to endanger lives, and $5 fines were assessed on the charges of driving without a license and without registration. Defendant was given six weeks to settle the fines.

MATRIMONIAL

The wedding of Miss Violet M. Bell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Bell of 92 Epping street and Mr. Rudolph Johnson, also of this city, took place at the home of the bride's parents, at 7 o'clock, last evening. Rev. Louis E.
Shields, pastor of the First Presbyterian church of this city, performed the ceremony before a large number of friends and relatives.

The bride wore a gown of peach colored crepe de chine and wore a wreath of flowers on her head. She carried bride's roses. Miss Alice Bell, a sister of the bride, was the bridesmaid and wore blue crepe de chine and carried dark red carnations. Mr. William Butcher of this city was the best man. Arthur Davies played the wedding marches.

A reception was held at the home following the ceremony at which relatives and friends from this city, New York, Newton and Providence, R. I., were present. The house was attractively decorated with pink and white flowers. A buffet luncheon was served and music was provided by Davies' orchestra of this city.

Mr. and Mrs. Johnson will take a wedding trip to Cornwallis and New York and will reside at 64 Laura street, this city, upon their return.

1250 Summer Frocks

In Three Temptingly Low Price Groups—
Here is the Story—

We are the distributors for three of New York's best known dress manufacturers, makers whose productions are strictly of the better grade. Early Summer weather was very unseasonable and, at the season of the year when manufacturers are watching their racks fast depleting, these makers, like hundreds of others, found themselves most uncomfortably overstocked. Only one solution could be applied—Clear the racks regardless of losses and get ready cash to allow production to continue as usual. And so we had our unrestricted choice of their entire stocks, selecting over 1000 of the loveliest models.
They are all here tomorrow at prices that are in most cases one half of their intended selling marking.

Democratic Convention Adjourns Sine Die After Nominating J. W. Davis and Gov. Bryan

THE DEMOCRATIC TICKET

JOHN W. DAVIS, OF WEST VIRGINIA, NOMINEE FOR PRESIDENT

GOV. CHARLES W. BRYAN, OF NEBRASKA, NOMINEE FOR VICE PRESIDENT

LOVE FEAST FOLLOWS NOMINATION OF DAVIS AND BRYAN

Emerging on 103rd Ballot as Standard Bearer of Democratic Party Davis Takes Command and Directs Selecting of Gov. Bryan as Running Mate

NEW YORK, July 10.—John W. Davis, of West Virginia and Gov. Charles W. Bryan, of Nebraska are the democratic party's candidates for president and vice president.

Emerging on the 103rd ballot as the democratic national convention's choice for the presidential nomination, the West Virginia lawyer and diplomat kept away great waves of bitterness turned up during the 15 preceding days of stormy conflict. Then, taking command immediately, the new head of the party guided the convention swiftly toward the selection of his running mate, the brother of William Jennings Bryan, his most vigorous opponent throughout the balloting. The final adjournment at 2:24 a. m., a day that marked the formal ending of the convention came two minutes after Gov. Bryan had been declared nominated for the vice presidency. It was accomplished with a single ballot, through the changing of many votes that eliminated most of the thirty names that first appeared, but it was not made unanimous. The weary delegates had finished their work.

The selections met with approval and love feasts followed adjournment of the convention.

BRYAN TO SUPPORT TICKET
NEW YORK, July 10.—William Jennings Bryan, who openly and vigorously opposed the nomination of John W. Davis as the democratic presidential candidate announced yesterday after Mr. Davis had been nominated that he would "support the ticket."

DAVIS ANNOUNCES WAR SMITH AND M'ADOO ON REACTION SEND CONGRATULATIONS

NEW YORK, July 10.—John W. Davis, democratic nominee for president, last night issued the following statement:

"The history of national conventions may be searched in vain for one which has excelled this in freedom or frankness of discussion, or whose actions have been more clearly the result of the untutored wishes of the assembled delegates. The resolution and endurance they have exhibited is but proof of their sense of the solemn responsibilities to the country under which they acted and of the supreme vitality of democracy."

"I cannot but feel deeply sensible of the honor done me by the convention and am even more conscious of the weighty obligations that have fallen to me by its deliberate and unanimous choice. Not least of these is the duty to put before the country as clearly as my powers permit, the democratic creed and the democratic policy as the convention has declared them."

"That this creed and this policy will receive the militant support of all those who call themselves by the democratic name, I do not doubt for an instant. I shall hope to rally to their aid that great body of liberal, progressive and independent thought which believes that 'progress is motion, government is action,' which detests privilege in whatever form and which does not wish the American people or their government to stand still or retreat from the midst of a changing world."

"There can be no compromise with reaction. Liberal principles must and will prevail. This is the mandate of the hour and I shall obey it."

"Home Town Club" Rewarded
CLARKSBURG, W. Va., July 10.—The "fool friends" of John W. Davis were rejoicing today. They saw him started on the way to the White House, a path they have been blazing for four years.

That Mr. Davis declined to take an active interest in their campaign to make him president, disheartened the "home town club" not a bit. Its members kept plugging away, booming Davis and today his neighbors surveyed the result of their persistence with entire satisfaction. As the nominee of

NEW YORK, July 10.—Governor Smith last night sent the following telegram to John W. Davis, the democratic presidential nominee:

"Sincere congratulations. Best wishes for success and my promise of heartiest support."
"ALFRED E. SMITH."

NEW YORK, July 10.—William G. McAdoo from his hotel last night sent the following telegram to John W. Davis, the nominee of the democratic party for president:

"Honorable John W. Davis, 'New York City.' 'Please accept congratulations on your nomination.' 'WILLIAM GIBBS McADOO.' This was Mr. McAdoo's only public comment on Mr. Davis' nomination."

TO ADJUST INDEBTEDNESS
BOSTON, July 10.—Stockholders and creditors of the Emerson Shoe Co. of Rockland met in joint committee here today to decide upon adjustment of the firm's indebtedness.

Six months ago, it was said, the creditors consented to advance until Aug. 1 the payment of certain accounts and the stockholders are understood to be seeking a further postponement. The alternative, it was explained, by a stockholders' committee official was a temporary suspension of operations by the firm for the liquidation of manufactured stock.

The democratic party, today he was invited back home for a celebration and as a rehearsal last night the town staged a demonstration in his honor comparable to the political rallies of a generation ago.

Postponed Reorganization
NEW YORK, July 10.—Approving the suggestion of John W. Davis and Gov. Charles W. Bryan, nominees of the democratic national convention, the national committee agreed today to postpone the reorganization session of the committee until after the formal notification of the candidates, which dates have not yet been agreed upon.

Mr. Davis and Gov. Bryan attended the committee meeting and were given an enthusiastic reception. The present organization of the committee will be continued until the new chairman is selected, it was agreed.

BRYAN NAMED AT 2.30 A. M.

Governor of Nebraska Nominated for Vice Presidency Early This Morning

Davis and Leaders Agree on Nebraskan—Ovation for Gov. Smith in Garden

MADISON SQUARE GARDEN, July 10.—At 2.30 o'clock this morning Charles W. Bryan of Nebraska, former governor, and brother of William Jennings Bryan, was nominated for the vice presidency by the delegates to the democratic national convention. His selection came after Sen. Thomas Walsh and E. T. Meredith had declined to accept the honor. The first ballot taken in the voting showed a scattering among 30 different candidates, but immediately after the result was announced delegations all over the house began demanding recognition in order to announce a change in the record vote in favor of Mr. Bryan. The result was a virtual landslide in his favor, and his nomination was declared following a final tabulation of the votes.

Four of the five men who conferred with John W. Davis, presidential nominee, favored the selection of Gov. Bryan for second place. Gov. Bryan was amazed at the report of the result of the conference.

"It can't be true," he said when the first news of the conference action was taken to him by The Associated Press. "I wasn't even placed in nomination." Mr. Bryan's name had heretofore been mentioned but it generally was assumed that he was out of the running party because of the attitude of his brother who openly opposed the nomination of Davis on the floor of the convention.

Governor Bryan was a member of the committee appointed by the chairman of the convention to escort Mr. Davis to the platform last night when he came to address the convention.

Those who participated in the conference with Mr. Davis after he had dressed the convention in the Garden were George Brennan of Illinois, Senator Walsh of Montana, Senator Harrison of Mississippi, Governor Smith, former Governor Stewart of Montana and Frank L. Polk, former under-secretary of state.

It was past 1 o'clock when the convention reassembled after the conference of the leaders to begin balloting for the vice presidential nomination. Harry B. Flaherty of Omaha took the platform to present the name of Charles W. Bryan.

"We bring to you a servant of democracy for the past 25 years," he said, "and urge his nomination."

The chairman of the Massachusetts delegation withdrew the name of William A. Gaston, which he said had been presented "without the authority of the delegation."

Bryan got his first big block of votes from California, which gave him 24 out of 26. Several other states joined in the movement, but several passed their usual place in the roll while their managers consulted with other delegates. Then the landslide to Bryan followed.

Mr. Davis appeared before the convention shortly before midnight after he had heard Governor Alfred E. Smith voice his praise for the selection finally made to head the party ticket and promise of unalloyed support for his election.

Amid a great demonstration and while thousands sang East Side, West Side, Alfred E. Smith appeared last night before the convention.

The thousands who idolize the New York governor all but burst their throats and almost lifted the roof of the garden when he appeared on the speakers' platform.

The great crowd cheered the governor so loud and so long that chairman Walsh almost despaired of getting the audience quiet enough to hear him, but when the governor himself held up his hand for silence the crowd quickly quieted down to hear him.

"I want to make a passing refer-

GILLET'S TRIBUTE TO DAVIS IN 1918

WASHINGTON, July 10.—The esteem in which John W. Davis is held in both political parties is well illustrated by the praise accorded him by Speaker Gillett of the house, republican candidate for the senate from Massachusetts, on Sept. 18, 1918, when the appointment of Davis to be ambassador to Great Britain was made known.

"Mr. Speaker," said Mr. Gillett, addressing the house, "I notice by the evening papers that Hon. John Davis has been appointed ambassador to Great Britain. He was formerly a member of the house and those of us who had the pleasure of serving with him will recall him as a most capable, courteous, modest and popular member. I must admit that I have not esteemed highly many of the appointments made by this administration, and when this vacancy in England came about there occurred to my mind several great republicans who I thought would fill it admirably, and I indulged a faint hope that one of them might be appointed as the first visible corroboration of the statement that 'politics is adjourned.'

"However, if that was not to be, I wish to say that I can think of no appointment that would have given more satisfaction to both sides of the house than this appointment of Mr. Davis. We all admire him and trust him as a man of sound judgment, of broad culture and learning, of high character and the most charming personality, and I am sure that while he is at the Court of St. James the very lofty standard that has been fixed there by a long line of great Americans will not be lowered and that the exacting demands of this momentous crisis will be adequately met."

DAVIS AS STANDARD BEARER

After two weeks of a strenuous fight against sectionalism as represented by William Gibbs McAdoo and the forces behind him, the democratic convention has nominated for president Hon. John W. Davis, of West Virginia, one of the foremost lawyers in the country, an able orator and statesman, a successful diplomat, a real democrat and, a true American without any alliance or bias that might cause him to view any public question through the eyes of prejudice.

It will be said that the convention would have done better had it nominated Davis in the first place; but that was impossible. The convention had to lay the ghost of sectionalism and it fought it to a triumphant finish in forcing the withdrawal of McAdoo. Otherwise that candidate would have been nominated and the party would have been rent in twain on the rocks of sectional strife. True to its ideals of democracy, the convention stood out in the face of the most trying difficulties, only to accomplish its highest aim in the nomination of a man who in the rich endowment of the qualities of fitness for the high office of president, has no peer in the country.

We congratulate the party upon the nomination of such a distinguished democrat, patriot and American. It will be said he is identified with big business, but in reply to this it can be shown that his unsolicited espousal of the cause of Mother Jones and the West Virginia miners, stamps him as incapable of being the tool of the corporate interests. Moreover, as solicitor general, he was the terror of the predatory interests. That is probably why some big concerns have sought his services as legal adviser.

As for Governor Bryan, of Nebraska, chosen for second place on the ticket, it is said he is popular with the farmers and that is probably why he was named. He has not followed his brother's course as a professional agitator and reformer. On the whole, the ticket will make a strong appeal to the country, and with the united support of the party now assured, the prospect of a great democratic victory in November is already offering the hope of better times to all the people.

THE DEMOCRATIC CONVENTION

Already the Courier-Citizen has begun to write the obituary of the democratic party; but despite the exciting course of events in the New York convention, the party is neither dead nor dying. It may appear to be the height of folly as viewed by our neighbor, that the delegates to that convention, or any large number of them, should take a stand in favor of Jeffersonian principles and accordingly against the pretensions of a cult that would abrogate religious liberty and even wipe that precious feature from the constitution of the United States.

Contrary to the views of our contemporary, we hold that the delegates who stand for the sacred principle of religious liberty and against the sectionalism of the hooded order, are not responsible for the engendered hatreds and bitterness shown at some points in the convention; and that they most certainly have no idea or intention of making the party "a close corporation to be dominated by a single cult" as the Courier-Citizen editorially suggests. It is a peculiarly twisted logic that would charge the delegates who oppose sectionalism with a design merely to establish a different brand of sectionalism equally despicable and un-American. No, the delegates who felt that the Klan issue should be fought out, stand for the sacred rights of all citizens under the constitution, not for an abridgment of those rights that would make a religious test or membership in a particular faith one of the qualifications of citizenship in this republic.

The religious issue has been injected to the convention through the plottings of a secret order, and those who stand openly and squarely opposed to such issues in a political campaign, are working for the best interests of the party and the country. It is not fair, therefore, to charge them with basely selfish ulterior motives or with secret designs quite as base as those they openly condemn.

In the main the convention, though it suffered by the well organized machinations of Mr. McAdoo and his cohorts, was made up of delegates who were honestly devoted to democratic principles, men who despise sectionalism and stand, as all democrats should, for the civil, political and religious liberty guaranteed by the constitution. It is only narrow bigots, political schemers, anarchists and other advocates of mob rule who would countenance opposition to these principles, much less enter upon a national campaign for their overthrow.

THE NATION'S SYMPATHY

From every part of this country goes out to President and Mrs. Coolidge at the White House, the most profound sympathy in the loss of their son, a very manly and promising youth.

That such a trivial cause should bring a fatal ending is likely to bring regrets that it had been neglected in the early stage before the disease passed beyond control; but it was a part of the boy's makeup to make light of slight injuries, and so the blister on his heel was disregarded until it showed evidence of blood poison and a most dangerous infection. The loss of the youth under such conditions is doubly distressing to the parents who, however, may find consolation in the outpouring of genuine sympathy from every part of the country and from all classes of citizens. As for the president, the duties and responsibilities of office will help him to forget his loss, but neither the glamour of social life nor the honors of being mistress of the White House will dispel the gloom that has come to Mrs. Coolidge through the loss of her boy; but brave and sensible woman that she is, she will bear her sorrow with Spartan fortitude.

BRYAN THE HOODOO

When William Jennings Bryan in his speech to the democratic convention intimated that the present would be the last national convention he would attend, the remark elicited applause, and well it might. Bryan has been the hoodoo of the democratic party for thirty years. Three times he secured the nomination for president and three times went down in defeat, proving that the people had no confidence in him.

At that time he probably believed in the doctrine he preached. Now, however, and particularly at the present convention, his scheming to get the privilege of addressing the convention at a critical period in its progress convinced the people of the country that he is not only a hoodoo but a demagogue and a political trickster. Having run his course in Nebraska, he moved to Florida, so that he might have some recognition and influence in the political affairs of that part of the country. His performance at the New York convention should put him outside the pale of honest political leaders.

SEEN AND HEARD

Every man wants to make the world safe for something, chiefly for himself.

Permanent waves are just like summer resort romances, they last for just about six months.

Going automobile riding alone on a beautiful moonlit night is an inexcusable waste of gasoline.

Did you go down town today, forgetting for the moment that the clocks were miles away at seashore and summer resort?

Maybe Jack Dempsey has lost his punch—and a year in the movies will not help him get it back but so far we have heard of no other boxer who has found it.

Between the thrilling performances of U. S. athletes at the Olympic games and the democratic convention there is plenty of interesting news despite the dull summer season.

A Thought
Nothing is denied to well-directed labor.—Sir Joshua Reynolds.

Sensible
Discovering his automobile to be on fire while going through Augusta, Me., Cecil Huk drove the machine to a fire station and had the fire extinguished before it did much damage.

"Not Programme"
Our best thanks to the proofroom for changing the spelling of "program" to "programme" yesterday. The point we wished to make, however, was that radio broadcasters pronounce it "program"—Chicago Evening Post.

Too Big An Assortment
Wood—I was surprised to learn that Stone went broke. I thought he had all kinds of money.
Steele—He had several kinds, mostly German marks, Austrian kronen, and Russian rubles.

Getting Over It
The horrors of war are fading, and few veterans now say "we, we" for "yes."—Baltimore Sun.
And you hardly ever hear one say "be keep jack" for much money, or "look sweet" for immediately.—Lewis-ton Journal.

What Does the Boss Think About It?
"Your telephone operator's young man calls her up about four times a day."
"Know."
"Don't you object to that?"
"No, it keeps her voice attuned to a coo."—Louisville Courier-Journal.

The Only Man She Could Get One From
"I would like to get a divorce from my husband," said the prospective client to her lawyer.
"Have you any good grounds for taking such action?" asked the disciple of Blackstone.
"Well, I have," replied the client. "He is trying to learn to play the saxophone."—Portland Evening Express.

Sweet Papa!
Shortly after they had returned from the honeymoon the husband took his bride into the city restaurant and frequently patronized for tea. A waiter whom he knew very slightly, quickly and silently served tea and toast. Wishing to impress his wife how well known and popular he was in the place, the husband said with mock severity to the waiter: "Now, then, where's my money?" After glancing uncertainly at the lady, the waiter replied in an audible whisper: "Didn't you know, sir? She's got a better job at the cafe round the corner."

Wheels On It
A canvasser was selling tickets for a raffle, the proceeds of which were to be devoted to a charitable object. He went all around the village, and at last he called at the shop of one Mark Sturdy, the butcher.
He needed some persuasion, but at last the old man went so far as to ask what the prize was.
"It is a magnificent encyclopedia," replied the canvasser. "Very useful, indeed, and absolutely the finest work of its kind on the market."
"O," said old Mark, "I must have a couple of tickets for my son, Sam. He's a great cyclist."

Things
We are gunning today, in a bloodthirsty way, For folks who have sold us Things! We are moving from here (Tis the end of our year) And O, that our junk had wings! We gaze on them all then And are sick to recall That ever with zest we had sought them.
They're useless or worse, And we stifle a curse To think it was we who had bought them!

There's the teak tabourette That we view with regret; There's a vase that is ugly as sin; And those dishes whose shape Is depressing as creep— Their purchase should never have been!

That chair none could sit in— No room would it fit in; Here are Things that we even can't name.

Yet they cost real money— Don't laugh! Tisn't funny; For now we behold them with shame.

Yes, we're hating today In the bitterest way The people who sold us Things That are now only junk (Most unspendable punk) And are wishing the stuff had wings. Yet next week or next year When we've moved out of here And are parked in a different den, We'll forget how we went Over the trash we had kept! And go shopping for Things again! —SPRICKLAND GILLILAN, in New York Sun.

MAN ABOUT TOWN

"By their suits ye shall know them." Speaking, of course, of the Elks. Over 500 of the local lodge secured suits of black silk mohair to wear in today's parade. The suits are serviceable and will unquestionably be pressed into use for every-day wear this summer. Every mother and sister will remember "Bill's" suit with the thin green stripes and it is a certainty that when another Bill passes them on the street this summer many will say "Elks" to themselves.

The national convention of the Elks, being held in Boston this week, has attracted many visitors to Lowell. A glance at the register at the local clubhouse shows that thus far, Elks have visited from Pasadena and Los Angeles, Calif., Chicago, Milwaukee, Kansas City, Louisville, Nashville, Easton, Pa., New York city, Boston, Manchester, Burlington, Vt., Portland, Me., Port Chester, N. Y. and many other cities.

When the circus was here Sunday it brought many visitors to the Elks' home. A large number of the performers and concession men were Elks. The ticket wagon men with the circus are all members of the order, coming from widely separated points. They made their Sunday a more pleasant one by dropping in on the local lodge.

Middlesex County Vulture, 40 homes, 8 chevrons, the fun-makers of the American Legion, will have an initiation the latter part of this month and many Lowell vets will go over the jumps. The "40 and 8's" always have a great time.

Driving up from Boston a week ago last Sunday a Lowell man and his party counted 1303 autos passing in the opposite direction between Harvard bridge and Merrimack Square. An original investment of nearly $2,000,000 represented there. Have you tried to figure how much money rolls through the square on rubber every day?

The medal for standing punishment is awarded to the man who stood in the front of The Sun yesterday from 10 o'clock in the morning until long after 1 o'clock at home? It was scanning the bulletins on the convention in Madison Square garden and has been at his post daily. Even the hot sun didn't bother him. Once in a while he'd bite off a new chunk of chewing tobacco and he watched the board with interest. I didn't think anybody was that interested any more.

Lowell's National Guardsmen training at Devens this week and next appreciate the smiling of The Sun to their daily by their relatives. Many wish their folks at home would give them a thought in this respect.

LACE TO MATCH
Frocks of organdie or crepe in periwinkle blue are trimmed with dyed lace to match and mounted on slips of shell-pink satin.
These English words have been incorporated into the French language: bookmaker, camping, challenge, court (in tennis, etc.), and bridge (the card game).

O. M. I. CADETS PLAN FOR ANNUAL CAMP

A most important meeting of the O. M. I. Cadets is scheduled for Friday evening when plans are to be laid for the annual summer encampment of the cadets which is to open July 28. The place of the encampment has not as yet been agreed upon, but this will be settled at Friday's meeting.

The encampments held in past years by the cadets have always been entirely successful and the effort put into this year's plans promises to make it the best ever. The programs of former years have been greatly elaborated so that the cadets may derive the greatest benefit and pleasures from their stay in camp.

HAVERHILL MAN HELD FOR LARCENY OF $4500

HAVERHILL, July 10.—Milton M. Law, proprietor of the M. M. Law Coal Co., was arrested by police inspectors on a charge of larceny of $4500 from the People's Coal Co., where he was employed as general manager for eight years. He was released under $5000 bail. He was captured in a barn on Lewis street, after a two-mile chase, which started when he jumped from the second story window of his home.

STE. JEANNE D'ARC CHURCH OUTING

The annual outing of the parishioners of Ste. Jeanne d'Arc church was held today at Willow Dale. About 320 people made the trip. The party left Kenney square at 8.30 and went directly to the park in special electric cars. On arrival at the Dale a program of sports was inaugurated and at noon luncheon was served. This afternoon was taken up with bathing and games. The return trip will be made about 5.30 p. m.

GIRLS HOLD OUTING AT CANOBIE LAKE

The girls of the Holy Angels sodality of the Sacred Heart church, about 200 in number, held their outing at Canobie Lake yesterday. The party left the church early in the morning in three automobile trucks. Rev. Gerald Kennedy, O.M.I., and Rev. Chas. F. Barry, O.M.I., accompanied the sodality. At noon a basket luncheon was served and a varied program of sports carried out. The party returned to Lowell about 7 o'clock.

KISSES
My and I for kisses play'd:
She would keep stakes—I was content;
But when I won, she would be paid;
Thus made me ask her what she meant.
"Pray, since I see," quoth she, "Your wrangling vein, Take your own kisses; give me mine again."
—William Strode

AWAY BACK THERE
When you're filled with that feeling of oh me, oh my, and your mind has gone flop for the day. You might just as well let a few hours slip by while you turn from your business to play.

Crawl into a hammock and settle in ease and let your old jaw turn to yawning. Just lie there, a target for any old breeze, and let the blue sky be your awning.

When all this is done and you really relax, your thinker may rest, but 'twon't last. It shortly is workin', 'cause that's how it acts, and your thoughts take you back to the past.

The little old town where you played as a kid will picture itself in your mind. You'll smile as you think of the things you did in those days that are left far behind.

There really is pleasure in memory dreams, and though you're accomplishing naught, your mind needs the tonic that's found, so it seems, in the rest through the change of your thought.

The Lowell command of the B.G.W.V. of A. held its regular meeting in the Free church in Middlesex street, Tuesday evening, H. Robinson presiding. The newly elected officers took over their respective duties at this meeting. Reports of the several committees were heard and accepted and a vote of thanks tendered the whist committees for the successful party held recently. It was moved that an outing to be held in conjunction with the Lawrence command and the secretary was instructed to bring the motion to the attention of the Lawrence command. Because of the intense heat it was decided to hold only one meeting during the month of August. This will be on the second Tuesday of the month. All members are requested to attend the next meeting as final plans for the outing will be formulated.

BUENOS AIRES, July 10. (By the Associated Press.)—Unofficial advice received by the newspaper La Nacion from Rio Janeiro and Fort Alegre, Brazil by way of Montevideo, assert that the rebellion at Sao Paulo is far from being dominated by the government and that the state of Parana and part of the state of Rio Grande have joined the insurrectionary movement.

500 Lowell Elks in Convention Parade

with wives, mothers, daughters, and sweethearts of the "Bills" and the trip to Boston was shortened by the abundance of gayety.

Sergeant Timothy Kimball, U. S. Army recruiter here, was bearer of the national colors carried by Lowell lodge in the parade. Attired in the regulation field service uniform, the sergeant, who joined Lowell lodge after coming to this city in the service, was one of the outstanding figures in the Lowell delegation. Dr. W. H. Downs, senior past exalted ruler of all Massachusetts rode in an automobile driven by the genial chairman of the Lowell lodge committee on the convention. Michael J. Markham. Several of the other old-timers were also afforded motor transportation and had the time of their lives.

Lowell turned out strong for the parade and the big time. It was figured at first that Lowell would have probably 200 or so more than the 500 marching members in attendance. Before noon, however, it was evident that nearly the full membership of the lodge, some 1400, would be in the Hub today. Many went by machine, many have been in Boston all week. The roads leading from this city to Boston have been one riot of purple all day as cars have passed carrying Elks and their families to what will take rank as the greatest Elk convention in history.

MAN MURDERED BY LIQUOR SMUGGLERS

NIAGARA FALLS, N. Y., July 10.—One man was murdered, another was shot and seriously wounded and an alleged attempt was made to bomb the home of a minister in a series of depredations in this city early yesterday.

The murdered man was Patrick G. Burke, proprietor of a soft drink place. He was killed by bullets fired from an automobile containing four men in front of his home. The slayer escaped. Robbery is believed to have been the motive.

Floyd Ault, 24 years old, of Akron, O., an immigration inspector who was appointed to the immigration force about 10 days ago, was shot and probably fatally wounded while patrolling the upper river bank for alien smugglers just after midnight. Police believe runners are responsible for the attack. Four men armed with sawed-off shotguns closed in on Ault and another inspector. Ault was shot in the abdomen. He is in a hospital and his recovery is doubtful.

Washington Senators Look Like Winners in Race for Championship Nomination

SENATORS 19 VOTES IN PERCENTAGE COLUMN AHEAD OF YANKEES

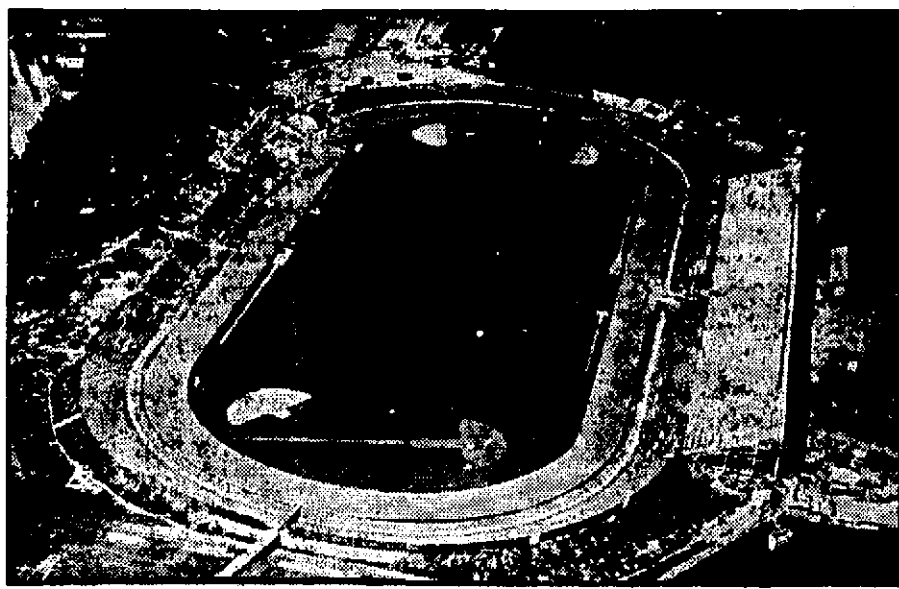

While Favorite Sons Continue to Jockey for Position in Hectic Battle of Hits and Runs Manager Harris Has Poll For Championship Nomination

NEW YORK, July 10.—White favorite sons and dark horses continue to jockey for position in the hectic battle of hits and runs, which has deadlocked the American League since April 15, Stanley Harris has tentatively swung his Washington Senators into a strong position in the race for the championship nomination until today he stands 19 votes in the percentage column ahead of the New York Yankees on the 76th ballot.

Although the Senators broke the unit rule and split their votes with the Chicago Cubs, the Senators picked up a few scattering votes when the Yankees, adhering to the unit rule, swung to Johnny Evers and cast their entire vote to Chicago. On the first ballot, Detroit got five to Washington's two, but Harris, mingling among his delegates swung Russell and Ogden into line and on the second ballot, gained a four to two majority.

A New York vote was challenged and on the recent swing solidly to Chicago 8 to 1, Harris' work with his delegation of bluebloods being largely responsible for the plurality.

Lowell Boys Arrive in France to Attend the Olympic Games

COLOMBES STADIUM, SCENE OF OLYMPIC GAMES

Raymond E. Dowd, of The Lowell Sun, and John Souza, manager of the Lowell 147-pound national amateur champion and member of the United States, have reached their destination, Paris, France, where they are to witness the Olympic games, now being held in the grand stadium at Colombes, six miles from Paris.

The Lowell duo are particularly interested in the success of Mello, and when the Lowell boy is called upon to participate in the international competition, Mello, Dowd and Souza will be right on hand to cheer and encourage him. Souza, no doubt, will be in Mello's corner in charge of his towel, etc., a duty he has performed in every bout Mello has appeared in since he entered the pugilistic game.

Mr. Dowd, who will send articles to The Sun on the big meet, is a thorough student of boxing, and as he has always been interested in the remarkable rise of Mello, he is capable of "covering" this important event with eminent satisfaction. In the first letter, received today, Mr. Dowd describes his trip across the Atlantic and gives a few ideas of the big stadium, gathered from officers aboard ship.

His letter is as follows:

Steamship Saxonia, Plymouth, England.

Editor of The Sun.

The Saxonia has finally reached land, docking at its first port of call, Plymouth, Eng. Within eight hours we shall be in Cherbourg, France, all set to get the boat train for Paris, the objective of our visit. And, naturally, our first move will be to get in touch with the hope and pride of Lowell, Al Mello, United States 147-pound champion, who we hope will be the next world's champion at the weight.

John Souza, who was my "buddy" and congenial companion during the trip, was very impatient on the way over. The trip was a nightmare to him. The ten days we spent on shipboard, though pleasant and enjoyable, proved a long and tiresome grind to John. All he wanted, all he talked of, was Mello. He wanted to be with him, and nothing else mattered. But as all in Lowell know, he's a great company.

Knowing Souza's ability as a storyteller, I prevailed upon him one night, to "do his stuff." He responded to the delight of all in the smoking room. His impressions of the ship, the crew, the food, the weather, the sea, the life on board, were all so vivid, so real, so true, that we all felt as if we were there. He also told of his early days in Lowell, explaining the geographical situation relative to Charles street and the South common, before advancing to his story. He said that one night he attended a ball game on the South common. That was before John became a star player himself. He was a great rooster, though. During an exciting part of the game John jumped up to cheer. He obstructed the view of several fans. One hollered out, "Hey, there, you Port-also got a good description of the stadium at Colombes from several of the ship's officers. They describe it as a gigantic structure, the last word in its line. It is located six miles from Paris and may be reached from all four sides.

Shuffle board was the most popular game on board. At least eight sets were played every day. John Souza, who has won the national championship in shuffle board, played with a rubber disc and an inclined board having squares and numbers; the player reaching 100 first wins the match. It was very interesting during the tournament.

Giant Holo also had a number of players, but it doesn't compare in popularity with the shuffle board game. Every night the passengers were entertained, concerts and dances being provided. The boat had two orchestras, one composed of college students and the other the regular ship musicians. One evening a masquerade ball was held and the costumes had to be made on the board ship. Many queer and original costumes were the result.

The passenger list had the names of many college students; in fact they comprised the majority of passengers and they hailed from nearly every college in the United States. Every night the boys would gather and college songs would fill the air until early morning.

The passengers disembarking at Plymouth were sent ashore in a tender and in less than two hours we will be on the way across the English channel. Only one minor accident marred the trip. A few days out from England the ship changed her course and they sailed from nearly every college in the United States. Every night the boys would gather and college songs would fill the air until early morning.

guess, we gave you Charles street; that is, you want the whole common?" This one went big. He told a number of others, all of which went big with the "gallery."

There was another Lowell man on board the Saxonia, namely, J. J. Dziura, the well known physician, who made the trip to visit Poland, his native country, after an absence of nearly twenty years. The doctor's mother and three sisters reside there, and he left the boat anticipating a most pleasant visit. He left the boat at London, where he took another steamer for Danzig, the Baltic seaport. He will then travel overland to Warsaw and home.

Life on shipboard was not all dull, many games being played on deck. I

Past Exalted Ruler Jos. M. Sullivan Says

"The Elks from all over the country who are attending the convention seem to like Boston and everything we provide," says Joseph Sullivan, Past Exalted Ruler of Boston Lodge. "I have heard a lot of very complimentary comments, especially on the Elcho cigar. Some of the men from far distant points of the country have expressed the wish that they could get such a good cigar at home. The Elcho is such a fine mild smoke that everyone who has tried it pronounced it an exceptionally enjoyable cigar."—Adv.

The Nut Cracker

MR. B. RUTH

The Babe is the most stirring voice in baseball's big ensemble. The nation's favorite son, the Babe, has a voice that is as strong as his bat. The Babe not only hits twice as many homers as anybody else, but his batting average is as high as his power. The Babe is the only player in baseball who is sure of a rousing rally when he fans. This is the true test of a player's ability to lead his team. The Babe is the hero of the masses, idol of the bleacher societa and high priest of ballroom's black whir. He has wrenched the sport from the clutch of the old-fashioned technicians and stripped it bare of such parlor shams as "inside stuff" and "managerial strategy."

The Babe has brought a simplicity to the game that it never knew before. Translated in terms of the field it is, "Swing to the hip."

The Babe never leaves any room for speculation. The pitcher knows in advance that the Babe has blood in his eye and murder in his bat. The pitcher has no choice. Either he must throw the ball over the grandstand and watch the ball sail over center-field wall.

The Babe's system antedates the game. It requires no great amount of thought and perception to grasp the subtle ingredients of a home run. And besides it is much easier to get worked up over a four-run homer than a one-base hit, or a swing and a miss.

The Babe will be down in athletic history as one of the immortal few may object that he could do no better. Still, it will have to be admitted that he hit with uncommon power. Shakespeare is remembered as a dramatist and Rodin as a sculptor. Both of them, it seems, were paid for in their life.

SILESIA TEAM ON TOP IN 11 INNINGS

Silesia won its second game in two days when it defeated Gardner last night at the North Chelmsford grounds by a score of 2 to 1, pushing across the winning run in the 11th inning.

The game was hard fought from first to last. Greenhalgh, pitching for North Chelmsford, allowed but four hits, and while he presented the visitors with seven passes they were well separated and caused little damage.

Ray was on the mound for the visitors and was just a bit more generous than Greenhalgh, the Silesians scoring eight safe hits, but only receiving two bases on balls.

Silesia scored first in the second inning, Driscoll getting in on an error by Dexter at short. He was forced at second by Doherty's liner and Doherty made the run on a beautiful triple by Ray, right fielder of the North Chelmsford aggregation and one of its leading hitters.

Gardner's lone tally came in the fifth. Crossin walked, took second on Sweetonic's sacrifice, and then crossed the home plate on a long single by Ray. Gardner again threatened in the eighth when Ray started off with a triple, but timely work by the home team stopped the rally before any damage was done.

The 11th inning brought victory to Silesia. Cutler was first up and was quickly retired. Forsythe connected squarely with the ball and reached second before stopping at the pinch with a single, which scored Forsythe, the former being thrown out when he tried to stretch the single to a double.

Marie's Americans scored a walk-away over the Butlers last night on the City League series, winning by a score of 10 to 1. The visitors scored six runs in the first inning and then loafed through the remainder of the game and the Butlers never even threatened a rally.

The game was pitched for the visitors and the Butlers in the palm of his hand at all times, allowing only five hits and issuing but two bases on balls. Lafamme, moundman for the losers, was touched up for 15 hits and issued three free tickets to first base.

HAGEN AND SMITH MEET BRITISH STARS

WYBRIDGE, England, July 10.—Walter Hagen and Macdonald Smith, regarded by many in England as America's two best golfers, opposed George Duncan and Abe Mitchell, leading British pros in a 12-hole four-ball foursome for international honors and purse of $200 at St. George's club near here today.

A blind girl kopran was a prize winner at the recent London Musical Festival.

BELMONT'S PLAY EAST ENDS TOMORROW

The East Ends and Ricard's Belmonts will meet on the South common tomorrow night on a City Twilight League game. As an added attraction Frank Ricard will donate a valuable string of prizes to the holder of the lucky bag at the game.

The Belmonts and East Ends have strengthened considerably since their last appearance on the common and both are out to land the verdict tonight.

The victory scored by Marie's Americans over the Butlers last night, has given last year's champions a new lease of life and they are out to continue their success to the finish. Herb Mulino, who played an important part in bringing the title to the Americans a year ago, is back in the line-up men also appeared in uniform up and he is in old time form. Last night, and the team looked like a real contender for the honors.

Two games are on the league schedule for next week. On Tuesday night the Americans will line up against the Pawtucket, and on Friday night they will play the Pawtucket and Treadwell in expected. On Thursday night Tommy Flemming's Belueves, now tied with the Pawtucket for the lead in the league standing, will tackle the Butlers.

A fast game is promised tonight, when the St. Joseph's Cadets clash with the Buffaloes on the North common. Both teams are remarkably strong and have already won one game each in the Junior League. The Cadets defeated the Victorians in the first league game by a score of 11 to 2, while the Buffaloes defeated the Victorians 10 to 5. The game has every indication of being a hummer so be on time, as the first ball will be tossed at 6:30 sharp. No seats reserved or rain checks distributed.

Billy Evans SAYS

Times without number, the village brass band has met the conquering hero at the railway station, the congressman from the district, the famous baseball player or the noted screen star.

Now for the first time in the history of the sport of harness racing it is recorded that a brass band met a hero of the race course. The honored horse was Chesley H. Searcy, 2:05 1/4, champion pacing colt of the 1923 season. Frederick C. N. B., his new home, welcomed him with a band the other day.

Not only that but one thousand lovers of the light harness horse in that city came along with the band to pay homage to the champion.

It was a gala day in New Brunswick and one that will not soon be forgotten. It established a precedent in the harness horse world and gives somewhat of a blow to the anti who claim there is no sentiment connected with racing.

It will interest the fans to know that Chesley H. Searcy, named for a prominent Louisville (Ky.) man, has become a "syndicate" pacer, being owned by the New Brunswick club, composed of a large number of horse lovers, and will be raced exclusively in the maritime provinces.

He was raced in 1923 by Harry Stokes, well known Springfield (O.) reinman, and it was his son, Ralph, who had charge of the racer when he left for Canada.

Chesley H. Searcy is a handsome bay horse by Silver Axworthy and was bred by Roscoe H. Searcy, prominent in Republican political circles in the Blue Grass state. The colt holds the world's race record of 2:00 1/4 for one mile, over a half-mile course. His campaign on the Grand circuit last season was brilliant and he should win additional honors in the northeast.

If he never does another thing, he can retire with the one honor of being the first harness horse in America to be met at the railway station with a brass band.

At being a hummer so be on time, as the first ball will be tossed at 6:30 sharp. No seats reserved or rain checks distributed.

TIMELY TIPS TO AMATEUR

SAYS ROGERS HORNSBY

Premier Batsman, National League

Face every pitcher with the feel that he fears your batting ability; great deal more than you do his pitching prowess.

Confidence in one's ability to them where they ain't, is a batter's greatest asset.

Your batting position according: Hug the plate on the curve; pitchers.

Step straight into every pitch. Get the proper use of your body rather than putting it all to your arms.

Watch your front foot. Never put away from the plate. It is impossible to get power into your drive when you do so. Any long hit might make under such conditions would be a fluke.

Never pass up batting practice. No not indulge in it carelessly. Rather make an effort to place your hits. It will help in regular competition.

IN NEW YORK

By Stephen Hannagan

NEW YORK, July 10.—Hell's Kitchen, one of the most notorious gang-breeding spots in all New York, is serene.

The boom of pocket cannons and the clang of patrol wagons is replaced with the tuneful tinkle of ukulele strings and the harmony of hall-room quartets.

The noisiest note in the kitchen now is the clash of colors of hood carriers and planters' daughters trekking out to a Saturday night jig.

Where once predominated slinking figures in misfit clothes, with caps pulled far down over nervous eyes, the take-eater type, dolled to the height of fashion, now holds sway.

Hell's Kitchen's new generation mimics the dress and manners of society.

In the old days, a murder in the Kitchen was the only cause for passing comment. Now it creates as much of a furore as it would in any small town.

Hell's Kitchen earned its name many years ago and was applied to the territory between 10th and 11th avenues north of 34th street. Hell's Kitchen, itself was a ramshackle frame house where the gangsters met and hatched their plots. It has since been torn down.

The "Tub of Blood" was the name of one of the picturesque saloons in the days when crime flourished in the Kitchen and a life was worth no more than a word of contradiction.

Only one old-fashioned custom holds in the Kitchen. It is the typical Irish wake, the "sitting up" ceremonial with the dead.

Heard in passing:

She—"Come, let's go dancing—my husband is out of town."

He—"Not me! I don't go out with married women."

Taxi driver, moving his cab up to the couple, "Tellow?"

Patrons of cafes, cabarets, "blind tigers" or other wet spots in Gotham's desert, will be arrested along with the proprietors, when illicit liquor is found during raids, enforcement officers have announced.

This applies to visitors also, the announcement emphatically stated.

"It isn't bad enough to pay high prices for a gambling chance against drinking poison. Now, they arrest you for participating in the gamble," was the comment of one Broadway habitue.

GERMANY'S SHIPPING RETAINS 7TH PLACE

(By Associated Press)

HAMBURG, Germany. — German shipping claims to be fighting against tremendous odds in its attempt to regain its place in the sun. The loss of 90 per cent of the German commercial fleet through the war and the terms of surrender means that German ship owners practically have to start anew. By taking up loans, buying back some of the ships delivered to the entente victors under the Treaty of Versailles, and refraining from paying dividends in recent years, the shipping concerns of Germany have gradually worked up a post-war tonnage of 2,800,000 gross register tons, which is about one-half the German pre-war tonnage, and which comprises 4 per cent of the total world's tonnage as compared with 11 per cent in 1914.

From 11th place in 1920 among the shipping nations of the world, Germany has moved to seventh place by 1924, as compared with second place in 1914.

Count Siegfried Roeders, chairman of the League of German Ship Owners and Freighters, in a prepared statement replying to specific questions, gave the following picture of shipping conditions:

"In 1914 the German merchant marine occupied second place among the world's fleets as far as actual tonnage was concerned. It then comprised 5,200,000 gross register tons and was surpassed only by Great Britain.

"In the course of the war Germany lost about half of her ships through capture, sinking, etc. Next in accordance with the terms of the Versailles Treaty, she had to give up approximately the second half. Included among the vessels that had to be turned over to the victors were all the larger passenger boats. The Germans were permitted to retain only the ships under 1000 tons and one-half the vessels between 1000 and 1600 tons. By the peace treaty and the German legislation resulting therefrom German shipping was compelled to pay a part of the war bill immediately in kind, by giving up not only the ships already in the service, but also those under construction.

"It was the sense of the Treaty of Versailles that this delivery by private capital was to be regarded as a payment on account by the German empire and hence to be refunded to the reconstruction program.

"Germany has taken up her principal former routes, such as those to North America, South America, the Orient, Dutch East Indies, and Australia. The tonnage at the service of these routes is, of course, considerably reduced, especially since greater emphasis must now be placed upon the reconstruction program.

"The building program undertaken

as a result of the indemnity payments is now complete to within four or five ships. It is self-evident that for years to come the building pace of the last years of reconstruction or even of the years before the war cannot be kept up."

individual concerns by the German state. The financial condition of the reich made complete indemnification impossible. An agreement was therefore reached between the government and the ship owners, by which the latter were to receive an amount sufficient to rebuild but one-third of their pre-war tonnage. Because of the inflation of the last years the indemnity payments of the government did not suffice to rebuild the third of the old tonnage agreed upon. Besides, in distributing the government indemnity, the small ship owners were to be given the preference, so that most of the larger concerns were able to finance a replacement program of but 20 per cent of the pre-war tonnage out of the funds furnished by the government. The fact that the larger concerns nevertheless rebuilt on an average one-third of their old tonnage, is due solely to their watering their stock and assuming new debts.

"Due to the fact that a number of small and middle-sized concerns were able to exceed this program, and that several new companies have been founded, the German merchant marine has now, upon completion of the reconstruction program, been brought to 2,800,000 tons,—in other words, to about one-half of the pre-war tonnage,—both by new construction and through the re-purchase of vessels delivered.

"Compared with the former fleet, the present comprises comparatively few purely passenger ships and more mixed freight-and-passenger vessels as well as freighters pure and simple. The fact that these newly constructed ships are equipped with modern machinery is not counterbalanced by the fact that the total value of the ships has depreciated over the pre-war value.

'First Aid' For Sick Children

THE experienced mother is not alarmed when a child becomes sick. She knows that most of the ailments of childhood are trifling. If it seems serious she calls a doctor, but whether or not she calls him she gives, first of all, a good laxative medicine. The doctor would advise that anyway. It is his "first aid." Such experienced mothers as Mrs. Everett E. Hunt of Belzoni, Okla., who has three children and never any sickness, and Mrs. F. B. Kuklenski of Prosser, Wash., always give Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin at the first indication of sickness. Such timely doses have saved them much worry.

The Meaning of "Good"

All doctors agree that a thorough cleaning out of the bowels is of first importance for it removes dangerous intestinal poisons. They will also advise a "good" laxative, and by "good" they mean one that is effective and yet harmless. They know that there are physics that never should be given to children - calomel, which is mercury and loosens the teeth; phenolphthalein, a coal-tar drug that causes skin trouble; salts, which concentrate the blood and dry up the saliva. They consider Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin safe for all ages as they know it is a simple vegetable compound of Egyptian senna with pepsin and agreeable aromatics. The formula is on the package.

Give Laxative for Colds

Adults should have at least one movement of the bowels every 24 hours, and children two or three. Failure to have it means constipation, then headache, biliousness, drowsiness, lack of appetite. Give a dose of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin at bedtime, and there will be health and good feeling by morning. A dose costs less than a cent, and a bottle can be had at any drug store. Colds and constipation come together, so if you notice coughing or sneezing stop it at once with Syrup Pepsin.

Socony is the "Amplifier"

by The Veteran Motorist

A LOT of us have had more or less experience with various amplifiers in our radio activities, and not always with the best of success. But when it comes to getting the most out of a motor car, we have found that Socony Motor Oil is the amplifier par excellence.

Not only does it ceaselessly fight friction in all moving parts, but it also resists to a high degree crank case dilution—a frequent condition where the careless motorist uses some unknown gasoline, rather than the reliable Socony.

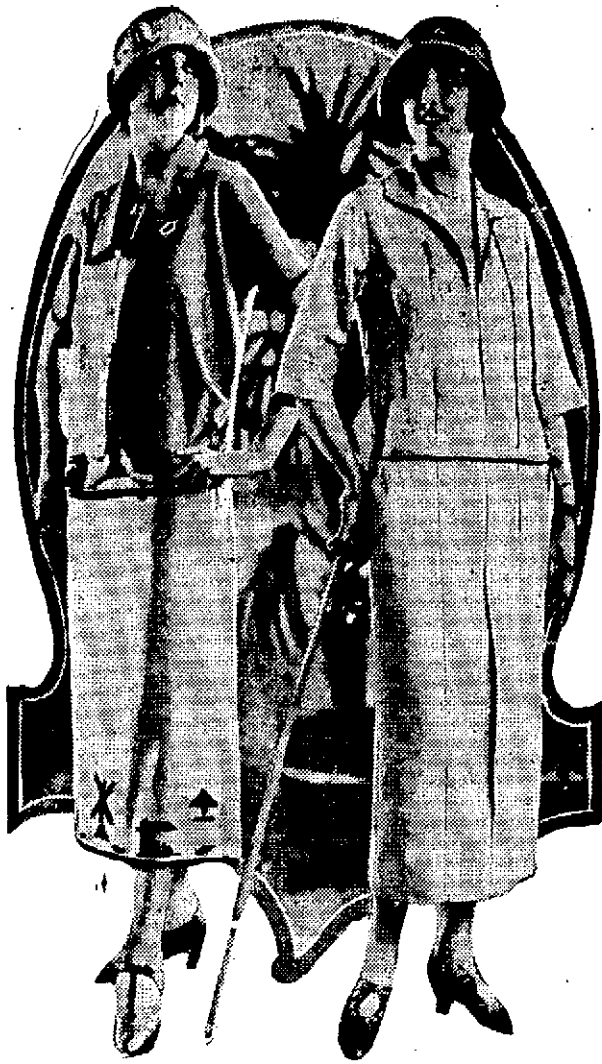

The first cost of Socony Motor Oil is not great, but the amount it saves in the protection of all wearing parts is enormous. It is super-plus insurance against engine depreciation, an absolute assurance that the maximum power and performance of any engine will be delivered when and where needed. It amplifies any motor to the utmost of its efficiency.

Don't accept a substitute.

SHOWS HOW YOU'LL LOOK

Improving on the mirror and the living model as methods to show how they will look under various styles of wigs or hairdressing, Madame Louise, Chicago beauty expert, has adopted a system of face sketches to which real wigs are attached. The sketches represent different styles of faces, from the baby doll to the severe. They emphasize the characteristics of types by the cartoon method, and are intended to help women hit upon their style of beauty and follow a definite course. This picture shows Madame Louise with a chic Parisienne, and the wig is auburn.

SMART AND SERVICEABLE

Here are two frocks that have smartness and style but have at the same time a great capacity for service. They are by no means beyond the skill of the home dressmaker. Both are cut on straight lines and rely upon embroidery for their trimming. The one at the left uses cross-stitch designs effectively, their crude colors giving it a suggestion of the peasant costume, while the one at the right depends upon a double row of dots in the same color on each side of the front. It is often possible by means of embroidery to redeem a very ordinary dress that you buy ready made and make it distinctive and different.

Clinton, Wisconsin.—"My daughter was in a very run-down condition, and was irritable, and would cry at every little thing she was so weak and nervous. As Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound helped me when I was a girl I gave it to her to build her up, and the results were all that we could wish for. I wish that every mother with growing girls would try it for these troubles girls often have. I had taken it myself before my girl was born, and she was one of the nicest babies any one could wish to have. I recommend the Vegetable Compound to women and girls and cannot praise it too highly." Mother can depend upon Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to relieve their daughters of those troubles they so often have. They know from experience the value of the Vegetable Compound in the treatment of these complaints and many, like Mrs. Holford, give it to their daughters.

Jack Daw's Adventure. Chapter 16

"It was fun to stand right up in front of the boat and watch the great waves it created as it cut through the water. The wind had picked up almost to the point of a gale and the boat started to rock. 'You'd better go down in your cabin and get some oilskin clothes on,' the wheelsman suggested."

Jack hurried down to his bunk and put on his big yellow raincoat and hat. He also found a pair of high boots which just fit him. Flip followed Jack to the cabin and the little adventurer tied his dog to a post. He was afraid the dog might be washed off the deck of the ship.

When Jack got back to the bow of the boat a real storm had come up. Waves were washing almost up to the railing as the ship plunged way down low and then way up high. Jack clung to the railing in order to keep his balance. He looked back and saw several sailors rushing about. (Continued.)

ADVENTURES OF THE TWINS

by Olive Roberts Barton

"WE'LL JUST HAVE TO GO AND SEE WHAT IT'S ALL ABOUT"

All the wood folk and mallow folk and barnyard folk came flocking to see Mister Zip's park in the woods, where Nanny and Nick were working. Such a busy place as it was! With the merry-go-round going ting-a-ting-a-ting, and the roller coaster going rattling, rattling, rattling, and the ferris wheel going crack, crack, crack, and the chute-the-chutes going zing-zing-zing, and all the people shrieking delightedly as the little boats hit the water—it was a noisy place.

"We'll just have to go and see what it's all about," said Mrs. Cracknuts to Daddy Cracknuts. "Here, Daddy, take your gold-headed cane." "Does it cost anything?" asked Daddy, taking out his old leather pocketbook which looked pretty flat. "It says on the bills 'Admission 10 cents,'" said Mrs. Cracknuts. "But I guess you can afford that. I've saved 30 cents on the housework this week by doing my own washing and ironing. I do think I ought to have a holiday."

"Well, that's so, Samantha," said Daddy kindly. "All right, we'll go and see everything we can see for 30 cents. That's a lot of money."

Away went Daddy Cracknuts and his wife to the park, and by and by they came to the big gate with the sign over it which said "Happy Go Lucky Park Come In."

Daddy bought two tickets from Mister Zip at the ticket window, and

ROUTINE CASES IN DISTRICT COURT

Police Supt. Thomas R. Atkinson acted as prosecuting officer in district court this morning in the absence of Deputy Supt. Downey and a short docket of routine cases was disposed of quickly.

Theresa Rama was called on a charge of assault and battery on one Kasimera Pacullian. Atty. Dennis J. Murphy was for the defense and Joseph P. Donahue for the complainant. Both attorneys agreed to waive the right of examination of witnesses. The case proved to be a family quarrel and after hearing the testimony to the assault and the cause of it, Judge Fisher discharged the defendant.

Manuel Ferreira, perjury, and William Rondeau, subordination of perjury, were found guilty and given suspended sentences of two months in the house of correction. The case was heard before Judge Enright some time ago and continued. The defendant, it was alleged, by officers of the local office of the motor vehicle headquarters, secured licenses for persons other than themselves and made false statements under oath. Atty. Joseph P. Donahue asked that, as the prosecution admitted it likely that the two were but dupes of a third party, a suspended sentence be given. The judge complied.

A charge of non-support against Henry Gregoire was dismissed. Atty. Tierney represented the plaintiff and gave as grounds for the action, that although the defendant had been granted a decree of divorce in a western state, the wife had not been given a copy of the libel and that the police-women are now attempting to ascertain the validity of the decree.

Joseph Mailhot pleaded not guilty to keeping liquor but was found guilty by Judge Fisher after testimony had been heard and fined $50. The finding was appealed and Mailhot held in $500 for the superior court.

Sergeant Michael Winn testified to raiding Mailhot's home and finding fifty bottles of alleged beer and two pint bottles of alleged alcohol spilt. He also testified that there were several men and women visiting at Mailhot's home at the time.

Atty. Cornelius O'Neill represented the defendant and cross-examined the witness at length, failing to shake his story. Mailhot then took the stand and said the party at his home was made up of friends and that he had purchased the "spit" on Broadway, further that he did not sell either the "spit" or beer.

On recommendation of the prosecuting officer, Judge Fisher imposed the minimum fine for keeping beer, $50, after finding Mailhot guilty.

William E. Mortimer, assault and battery, and Stanislaw Krykowska, assault and battery, were continued, the former to July 24 and the latter to July 19.

CHURCH SOCIETIES OFF ON OUTINGS

The Guardian Angel society and the choir of St. Jean de Baptiste church are today enjoying their annual outings, the former at Canobie Lake park and the latter at Hampton beach.

About 200 members of the Guardian Angel society left this city in automobiles at 9 o'clock for Canobie Lake. Upon arrival there a program of sports was run off and basket luncheon enjoyed at noon. The afternoon will be given over to a basketball game, bathing, and swimming. Rev. Emil Bolduc, O.M.T., head of the society, is in charge of the outing.

The choir outing was planned by the organist and director, Rodolph Peylin. The members, numbering about 15, left in private automobiles at 8 o'clock and planned an elaborate program of sports and amusement at Hampton beach.

FOR VIOLATION OF CHILD LABOR LAW

Violation of the child labor laws of the state was the charge brought against Rose Saba in district court this morning, the complaint being made by Edward J. Meahan of the state department of labor. There were two counts in the complaint, one charging that the defendant employed a minor under 16 years of age after 6 o'clock in the evening and the other charging her with employing a minor under 14 years of age.

Mr. Meahan testified to visiting defendant's store in Paige street and getting the evidence leading to the arrest. There was no defense offered and Judge Fisher made a finding of guilty, fixing the first count and imposing a $10 fine on the second count.

AD CLUB MEETING AT ALLARDALE FARM

A regular meeting of the Lowell Ad club was held last evening at Allardvale farm, Dracut.

Following an excellent chicken dinner a musical program was given by Mrs. Fred J. Nevery and William Cantor. At the business meeting Thomas R. Atkinson, president, presiding, a report was made by William Bruce, chairman of the outing committee, on the contemplated outing to be held by the club early in September.

Frank S. Freeman, M.A., A.B., was the principal speaker of the evening on the subject, "School Administration and Its Problems." He declared himself in favor of a greater number of optional schools to prepare children for life in the world. At present a large number of children leave school before they complete the secondary grades and are unskilled and untrained in any form of work and are, therefore, greatly handicapped, he declared.

At the conclusion of Mr. Freeman's remarks, Hugh J. Molloy, superintendent of the Lowell schools, also spoke. Members of the club voted to hold the next meeting, which will be in August, at the Allard farm. Speakers will be secured and the final plans laid for the annual outing.

LIQUOR SQUAD IN TWO NIGHT RAIDS

Two successful raids were conducted last evening by Sgt. Michael Winn, Officers A. J. Cooney, William P. Linton and J. J. Leahy of the police liquor squad.

The first was at 23 Chapel street where it is alleged liquor was purchased and a small quantity of liquor found. The second was in a tenement at the rear of 120 Lewis street where the police say moonshine liquor was found. The owners of both the above establishments will be summoned into court.

Lowell Day Fixed

one of the best friends the national guardsmen of the old home town has, first, last and all the time, is chairman of the committee and is working in close co-operation with Secretary-Manager Wells to "put over" this program, that is intended to be an "appreciation visit" to prove to the one hundred and twenty-one Lowell volunteer soldiers that they are receiving warmest support in their military aims and aspirations and that they are worth honorable mention and attention from the people of Lowell whom they represent in the country's first line of defense today.

The other active and enthusiastic members of the committee on military affairs of the local chamber of commerce, are William X. Goodell, of the Locks & Canals; Percy Wilson, of Lowell Electric Lighting corporation and Willard D. Pratt, president of Pratt & Forrest company. Numerous citizens have expressed their desire to go to Devens on "Governor's day" and also take part in the testimonial to be tendered to the Lowell boys in Camp. As usual, there will be gifts for the infantrymen from the home town, and the latter are preparing to act the hosts in the finest possible style. Lowell guests will be allowed to "mess" with the infantrymen in Company C and dining halls as usual, noon and evening. Special entertainment programs are being prepared for the twilight hour festivities, and the music will include a concert by the crack 182d Infantry band—one of the best in the national guard list of instrumentalists.

Heat Wave is Unabated

"Just as hot and sticky" as it was yesterday.

Forgetting the official weather bureau statistics for a moment, it was still gloomier hot this morning beyond question, with humidity near the raring percentage registered yesterday afternoon, when it reached the topmost point of 79. At 2 p. m. yesterday, the Lowell registration was 73, as recorded in The Sun's weather column last evening.

The mercury went not above yesterday tabling on recognized glasses in and about Lowell. Boston's weather yesterday was tempered by a strong east wind and thunderstorms in early evening, and the highest mercury score on the Federal building "U. S." glass was lower than the Lowell registration.

Today, at 2 o'clock, the humidity percentage in Lowell trembled unsteadily on the 71 mark. The increasing strength of the sou'westerly breeze welcomed by citizens one and all early this afternoon, indicated the near departure of Old Humidity before tomorrow. Indeed, weather sharps expect a general change in atmospheric conditions with "better air" before sunset. And, praise be! let us hope that the latest Washington weather news bears truthful report.

Showers to the north of us, showers to the east of us, showers to the south-east and south, were recorded last night, but nary a cloudlet favored Lowell and vicinity with cooling moisture long desired. In fact, Middlesex county has had no decent rainstorm for more than 10 days, and the fruit and market garden farmers are losing a lot of sleep.

"Nothing is growing; what crops were starting good are standing still; we need rain, more rain and still more. In fact, we could stand a deluge right now." That's the way the country gardeners who are trying to provide food for city folk's consumption are talking, and they are among the chief sufferers from drouths such as this one.

Happy days are coming soon, if the weather man speaks truthfully, as we said before. Showers were predicted for this afternoon and evening, with tomorrow's outlook promising—fair and slightly cooler. The winds are to be "increasing, becoming fresh, possibly strong; southwest and west."

The mean barometer in Lowell yesterday was 30.04 inches. The mean temperature reading at Locks and Canals was 80.0 degrees. The lowest dew-point of the season was 58.0 degrees—yesterday's figure. (No dew on the front lawn this morning, if you will recollect.)

The mean relative humidity was 74.0. Today's reading at noon brings hope, 71 being the average percentage, with prospects of much lower figures before nightfall today.

The maximum temperature was 87 yesterday, the minimum 74.

The hottest place in the U. S. A. yesterday was New Orleans, with 90 in the shade. It was no time for a Mardi Gras in New Orleans yesterday. The "coolest" place in the land was old Nantucket—with a 72 and a stiff eastern breeze from the Atlantic that must have been enjoyed to the fullest extent by all Lowell folks summering there in the cottage by the sea.

Bathers continue to flock to the Pawtucket boulevard pool, and everything is serene with no casualties of any kind thus far. Public safety officials are on guard, however, and today the Massachusetts Safety council issued a statement directed to bathers everywhere, relative to the use of novelty devices in waterways.

The warning, copies of which have been received by Major Walter R. Joyce, local agent of the safety council, reads as follows:—

"The prevalent use of old automobile inner tubes in place of water wings at various bathing places in the state, constitutes a new source of danger. On Tuesday last, five drownings were recorded as having taken place in Massachusetts rivers and ponds. Two of these were caused by one of these inflated automobile tubes bursting.

"Another fact that should be realized by the public generally is the humid weather, such as we have been undergoing the last few days, makes the person with a weak heart liable to exhaustion when he over-exerts in the water.

"Bathers should not go into the water for an hour and a half after eating a meal and if they become exhausted while swimming over their head, should lie on the back and float, calling for help only long enough to attract attention."

The only other item of interest that The Sun's weather reporter could dig up this morning, after watching the joyous round-up and hilarious departure of the myriads of downtown mercantile store clerks, old and young, male and female, bent for country fields and streams and various favorite shady glades for a grand summer all-day outing, was the discovery that one Mister G. A. Loveland is the new official government meteorologist in Boston and that team has a summary vacation ring to it, too.

HOLDS GAVEL-BREAKING RECORD
The strong right arm of Senator Thomas Walsh, sent countless gavels to the gavel factory during the democratic convention just closed. Since the problem of keeping the convention in order took plenty of gavel pounding he is credited with breaking more gavels than any other convention chairman on record. This interesting pose shows the senator in the hot weather costume of a convention chairman.

CHURCHES IN PROTEST OVER ARMY PLAN

BOSTON, July 10.—A protest against the trial mobilization of this country's armed forces, planned for Sept. 12, was sent to Secretary of War John W. Weeks today by the Massachusetts State Federation of Churches.

"We believe this proposal to be inexpedient and inconsistent with our avowed peaceful purpose and intent," the letter reads, "especially at this time, when the world sorely needs assurance of mutual confidence. No possible technical advantage of mobilization day can compensate for the loss of our moral prestige and for the weakening of the faith of other nations in us."

FOR GOVERNOR OF R. I.
PROVIDENCE, R. I., July 10.—Samuel H. Davis, representative from Westerly in the general assembly, today announced his candidacy for the republican nomination for governor. Among the issues which he will advocate, he declared, are state and federal 48-hour laws.

Clerical work, stenography and office work in general are vocations in which women stand a good chance of marriage, records show, while school teaching is unsatisfactory in this respect.

Wood for walking sticks and umbrellas is grown like corn or oats. Forests of small sapling trees are planted and grow to the required size in about four years.

U. S. DEMURS TO DRAFT MADE AT GENEVA

GENEVA, July 10.—(By the Associated Press) The United States has informed the League of Nations that it cannot adhere to the draft of the treaty of mutual assistance which the fourth assembly of the league voted should be circulated among all the governments with the request for expression of their views.

Holding that the fundamental principle of the treaty is to provide guarantee of mutual assistance and to establish the competency of the council of the league with respect to any decisions contemplated, the United States says that in view of the United States constitution and of the fact that America is not a member of the league, the United States would find it impossible to give its adherence to the treaty.

CITY SELLS NOTES TO BOSTON BANK

City Treasurer Bourke this morning opened bids of banking houses on the proposed issue of $300,000 in temporary notes to mature Dec. 15 and awarded the First National Bank of Boston as the low bidder at $242, said to be the cheapest loan ever made to the city. Other bidders were F. S. Moxley, $254; Guaranty Trust Co., New York, $244 plus $1.50; S. N. Bond & Co., $244 plus $1.50; and J. J. Hurler, $244.
